Some Iron county McHannates are again yowling about "seeing the books." Well, the books can be seen at any time by anybody. They are public property. And when they are seen it will be seen that the bulk of Iron county taxes is paid by Democrats.
Ironton's European travelers—Messrs. Thos. and John Newman and Fred. Kindell—returned last Friday, after an absence of two months and a half. They had a pleasant sojourn and return home delighted with their trip. The editor is under obligations to Mr. Thos. Newman for a cigar case—a souvenir of his travels.
The millinery opening at Lopez's Monday attracted a large number of lady visitors, all of whom were delighted with the exquisite display of fall and winter millinery. Miss Laughlin certainly had the hats and bonnets most tastefully and elegantly arranged and compliments were showered on her from every quarter. Some very useful souvenirs were distributed to the visitors.
Work has been discontinued in the shaft at Pilot Knob. The shaft is over two hundred and seventy feet deep with no paying ore in sight, and it was expected to reach the ore at a depth of about two hundred and fifty feet. Evidently, some one has made a serious and extravagant blunder. 'Tis but the silliest sort of nonsense to attribute the closing down to political reasons, and any effort to do so is as contemptible as it is false.
The ladies will learn with pleasure that Miss Lulu Gillam will have her Fall Millinery Opening on Friday of this week, and that the display of goods will be such as to call forth their approval. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and see the novelties in Fall and Winter Bonnets. Miss Gillam's excellent taste is acknowledged by her numerous patrons, and the REGISTER assures them to-morrow's display will confirm their judgment. A souvenir will be presented each lady.
Sheriff Bowers brought James Miner and Will Stephens to town Tuesday charged with burglary and larceny. On the 14th inst. some one burglarized the store of Eaton Bros. of Edge Hill. James Miner was at once suspected and a watch put over him. On Monday last, the stolen goods were found near Miner's house and he thereupon made a confession to the theft. He also implicated Will Stephens, but after having been placed under arrest by the sheriff said Stephens was not with him. Stephens says he was at home on the night of the 14th., and that he can establish the fact by three as good men as there is in the county, and we are satisfied he can do what he says. Since Miner was brought to town he says he got the goods found in his house from Jim Gallaher, son of John Gallaher. Miner is a bad man and the sooner he is landed behind the bars the better it will be.—Reynolds Outlook.
Last Friday Sheriff Bowers started to Ironton with Miner to place him in jail here. In the neighborhood of Tip Top Miner succeeded in giving the sheriff the slip and made good his escape. Bowers came on to Ironton and he and sheriff Gregory made a visit to the vicinity where Miner got away, but they secured no trace and the fugitive continued his flight uninterrupted. Sheriff Bowers returned to Reynolds county the following day. Next morning he located Miner near his old home and took him in charge. Monday he brought the prisoner here where he will remain in jail until the November term of the Circuit Court.
Ironton had two attractions last Friday—Joe Flory was one, Long Bros. Palace Shows the other. Neither one cut any great ice. In fact the critic would be bound to pronounce them both as rather bum shows. They both reached town about the same time—at noon. Long Bros. came by wagon from the waters of "the raging Black," where they had exhibited the day before. They were met at the northern limits of the town by a delegation of small boys who heartily cheered as the twenty-five or thirty wagons composing the circus came in to view. Joe Flory came from Poplar Bluff and arrived on the noon train. His august person was duly guarded and protected by the Des Arcs Glee Club—about twenty strong—under the command of Capt. Joseph Brooks, Lieutenants Graves and Raney, and Corporal Crowley. A delegation of local statesmen met the Hon. Joseph at the station and escorted him down town in a carriage while the D. A. Flory Club—Captains, Lieutenants, Corporals and privates, all—was left to find its way as best it could. By reason of the fact that Long Bros. and the Hon. Joe were both billed for that day there were quite a number of people in town. Enough to secure a good crowd for one attraction. But not enough for two. What should they do? Show people do not often antagonize each other. Nor was there any exception made on this occasion. A compromise was effected. Joe held forth in the courthouse in the afternoon and Long Bros. held the boards at the show grounds at night. About one o'clock the Ironton band "tuned up" marched down the street, played a selection or two, and then adjourned to the second floor of the courthouse where Joe was to speak. There was a good crowd in attendance, court room was filled. Our Republican friends had neatly decorated the speaker's desk and the effect was pleasing. There were a great many ladies present, and, of course, they added greatly to the occasion. The band played a national air, the Glee Club sang "America," and Rev. Steele in a few well-chosen and very appropriate remarks introduced Joseph. Then Joe made his speech. No, he didn't make a speech. Joe can't make a speech. But he talked, talked, talked! Good, loud and long! Joe's talk was chiefly remarkable for what it did not refer to. He accused the Democratic State administration of extravagance and corruption, but he failed to refer to any record made by Republicans when they were in power in Missouri to show why they should be returned to high places. Perhaps Joseph is aware of the fact that the Republican record in Missouri is such as 'tis not best to recall and refer to. We don't accuse the Hon. Joe of knowing much, but we believe he knows that much. Any way, he didn't tell of "the good old days of Republican rule" and Republican office-holders. And that's about all there was to Joseph's talk. We would like to give him a more extended notice but there's nothing more to tell. After Joe got through Col. Tracey of Springfield and E. C. Brockmeyer of St. Louis each made short speeches. Col. Tracey is an old Republican war-horse of Southeast Missouri, and once represented his district in Congress. Brockmeyer is a Globe-Democrat reporter. He is a young man and has never attained any reputation—nor likely ever will—save the notoriety that attaches to having written and printed more lies during the past two years than any man in America—barring none. After the speaking Joe and his party returned to the station, boarded the fast mail for Bismarck where they held forth that night. Now, on casual glance, the Hon. Joe doesn't seem to be a very bad fellow; he's all right, perhaps in a way, but he's not of the stuff out of which governors are made. Come out on the 11th, boys, when our man Dockery is here and we'll show you a genial, affable gentleman, a statesman, too; one you'll all be proud to vote for and have as your Governor for the next four years! But Long Bros. Palace Shows must not be neglected. According to agreement they held forth that night. However, the show was not of the highest order and the performance wasn't the best we ever saw. They tried it again Saturday night, and then early the following morning wended their way down through the Shut-In on the trip to Fredericktown where they were billed for Monday. Joe gone, Long Bros. gone, the town resumed its ordinary peace and quiet Sunday morning!

Teachers' Reading Circle.
Quite a number of the teachers of Iron county met at Ironton Saturday, September 29, 1900, for the purpose of organizing a Teachers' Reading Circle. At the appointed time the teachers proceeded at once to business, as is always their wont. Prof. M. W. Daugherty was unanimously elected president of the Circle, and Miss Lela O'Neal, Secretary.
The society is not for teachers alone. It is a literary society to which any one may belong, but will be especially beneficial to teachers.
A programme committee was appointed whose duty it is to arrange a programme for each meeting of the society. Every member of the society will be given a special work to do at these meetings, which will be held monthly.
It will not cost you anything to join the society, but the books which it uses cost two dollars and forty-five cents—this being nothing compared to the benefit one may derive from them. Mr. Lindsay Shelby is agent for these books. Like most agents he is a fluent talker, and if once you meet him I am sure you will not go away without buying his books and joining the society.
We have at present seventeen members, viz: Mrs. Josie Hawkins, Misses Alyce Gay, Edith Westerman, Nannie Ringo and Lela O'Neal. Messrs. Jas. Malone, Asa Malone, Jessie Hawkins, E. E. Bollinger, Wm. McCormick, J. T. Bouch, Lindsay Shelby, Robt. E. Wilkinson, Chas. M. Fitzpatrick, M. W. Daugherty, Edwin Paul Steele and Thos. F. Marshall.
This number we hope to be greatly increased at our next meeting which is to be held in the school building at Ironton the last Saturday in October. Call and see us. Visitors are always welcome. A MEMBER.

It was suggested that the Chairman of this club, suggest to the Executive Committee, the advisability of leasing the Academy of Music for the occasion of the Mr. Dockery's visit here October 11th.
Moved that the club procure four dozen dinner pails for use in procession. Carried.
No further business, club adjourned to next Saturday evening, October 6th, 7:30 o'clock.

TO PUPILS AND PARENTS.
One of the most potential aids to success is the proper valuation of time. To understand the worth of an hour and to employ so many of them every day to the best of one's ability, is the surest way that has ever yet been devised to accomplish results. Those who thoroughly realize this early, and conscientiously make the most of their time, are those who get the best out of life and make the most for others. The habitual wasters of time are not among those whose names are in the lists of the successful. Time judiciously used accomplishes wonders; thrown away, it has rendered inefficient much talent and great ability.
There is no one so clever that he can get away from fundamental principles; whoever transgresses a law must pay the penalty, and time that is wasted can never be recalled. There is just so much substance of a life, gone, that nothing can bring back. Just as there is no man strong enough to neglect the rules of health, so there is no man able enough to neglect the rules of health, so there is no man able enough to make up for wasted time. With all the progress that the centuries have made, we as individuals are still governed by the same laws that the first man found he must obey. Time was divided for him into day, when he must "earn his bread by the sweat of his brow," and night, which was made for his rest. It is in the hours of recreation that one man's condition differs from that of another. These are governed by circumstances; but whatever his hours of work are, they should be used for the purpose for which they were intended. The penalty for their misuse is often severe.
Respy, R. E. WILKINSON.

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay Co., W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pine Balsam. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by Arcadia Valley Drug Co.

Another Expansion.

It will be of interest to the readers of the REGISTER who use McEne's Wine of Cardui in their homes to know that the sale of this remedy has so increased during the past year, so that the manufacturers have again had to increase their capacity by the addition of another large building. It has often been said that an article that finds favor with the ladies is sure to achieve great success. No more striking example of this could be found than the history of Wine of Cardui. From thousands of ladies letters received by the manufacturers, the following are selected:

From Mrs. Mary Fankowski, 33 Rose Street, Chicago, Ill.

I have taken a bottle of Wine of Cardui and feel much better than when I wrote you. I did not have any pains at my last monthly period.

From Mrs. M. A. Thompson, Kalamazoo, Mich.

I suffered from what was supposed to be tumor of the womb, but I have taken five bottles of Wine of Cardui and am almost cured.

From Mrs. J. L. Todd, Stalvey, S. C.

I do not think I would have been living if I had not taken Wine of Cardui. We desired a child very much, and I now have a baby seven months old.

From Mrs. W. S. Harris, Walker Street Kansas City, Kans.

I have tried Wine of Cardui and found it to be the greatest medicine on earth for female troubles.
